

24 May 2011

Gail Kenny Group to sponsor AWTE Ladies' Sunset Reception at ITT conference

The Association of Women Travel Executives (AWTE) is delighted to announce that executive search company the Gail Kenny Group is sponsoring the Ladies' Sunset Reception at the ITT conference in Venice.

The now infamous reception will take place on the terrace overlooking the Giudecca Canal at Harry's Dolci – just a couple of minutes from ITT conference venue the Molino Stucky Hilton – on Monday 6 June from 6.30pm to 7.45pm.

At the reception, AWTE chair Karen Ramirez will reveal the AWTE's plans for the year ahead, and how membership of the association can help boost business connections and commercial prowess.

Karen said: "We have a packed calendar of events, training, and networking for AWTE members – with the objective of helping women build a higher profile within their companies, and in the industry as a whole. I am delighted that the Gail Kenny Group, a company dedicated to supporting and promoting the people of our industry, is sponsoring this event."

Gail Kenny said: "The Gail Kenny Group firmly supports AWTE's recent initiative in terms of diversity in the boardroom, and we are delighted to be sponsoring the Sunset Reception. We recognise that our people are the foundations of our success, and we also recruit the most talented individuals, regardless of age, race, or gender, not just internally, but also on behalf of our clients. It's our role to continue to encourage our clients' commitment to equality in this industry, and promote and support women in the workplace. With the support of the AWTE network, we can attempt to ensure that women are recognised, rewarded and promoted for their contribution to the travel industry."

For more information on the AWTE and its upcoming events, email chair@awte.org.uk.